122 Broadway, New-York, October, 1845.

This is to certify, That, in the summer of 1843, I was desired by my employers, Mesara, Each, Son & Co. Rectifiers, Everitist, Brooklyn, N. Y. to weigh and keep an account of the quantity of coal which was consumed to drive their engine of 5 horse power, and also to run their still by steam. I weighed and kept the account with fall the sccuracy I could, and found that it required, upon the average, from 1000 to 1200 pounds of Lackawana lump coal. The boiler was set in as good a manner as most boilers are in fact it was the same as at present. Some time after Mesars Cinte & Seabury, Patentees of "The Heat Generator," applied their invention to this same boiler, and I was again directed by my employers to weigh and keep an account of the quantity of coal which was consumed in performing the same work as before, and I found that it required, upon the average, from 700 to 850 pounds of Ralforad nut size Lackawana coal; there by making a saving of one-third of the quantity used, and slate a farther saving of oue-fourth of the puantity used, and slate a farther saving of oue-fourth of the puantity used, and also a farther saving of oue-fourth of the price of the lump coal; because the nut coal is at least one dollar per ton cheaper or less in price than the lump. In order to show that all the beat that is generated by Clute & Seabury's patent apparatus, is confined under the boiler, and does not pass up the chimney, as is too much the case when furnaces are constructed in the usual manner, I will merely mention, that while the engine is at work, a man may place his hand through the opinion of the defining while it would be impossible to place his hand on the top not not structed to be made, and manner, I would also mention that by Clute & Seabury's invention the beat is so confined that it will keep the engine is at work, a man may place

The efficacy of cold water in the prevention and cure of disease is now generally admitted, and in many parts of Europe and our own country it has suspended the use of of drugs and medicines. In both acute and chronic diseases, such as fevers, theomatism, gout, paralysis, scrofula, spinal diseases, (including curvatures and distortions), dyspepsia, and a host of ills which man is heir to, the action of cold water is rapid and permanent. But, thank Providence, the time has arrived when the fallacies of the faculty are to be made evident. n one of the mountains of Silesian Austria, let called Graefenberg, stands the laurel dhero, at whose fiat the long cherished, the ively practiced science of poisoning is to be elf of broken ribs and wounds consequent on g run over by a wagon, all by the agency of ghborhood, throughout all Germany, and finally, to every part of the habitable globe.— Seeing the enormous moral and physical advantages that might result to society by first curing their ail-ments and by teaching them the benefit that must ough he saw breakers ahead, determined on pushing off his boat on the troubled sea. Where is the professional man that can say with Priessnitz, that out of ten thousand invalids that have passed through his hands he has only lost forty? That such is the fact at Graefenberg any person may ascertain who will take the trouble of person may ascertain who will take the trouble of inquiring at the neighboring Police Office, where every thing connected with Graefenberg is especially registered. It must be noticed that patients who apply to Priessnitz, do so as a dernier resort; having tried all medical aid within their province, and generally the mineral springs of Germany and elseerally the mineral springs of Germany and Grewhere, in vain—and it is asserted by twenty English gentlemen, who signed a certificate to that curable, and those whose diseases are the result of medical treatment.

Those diseases which carry off whole districts, such as cholera, inflammations, dysentery and fevers, are as child's play to Priessnitz; and the same may be said of all complaints to which children are subject—such as measleg, small pox, whooping cough, scarletina, &c. To sum up, we defy skeptics, or others who have visited the Hygene Temple, to state a single instance in which he ever lost a case where the attack was from any of those dangerous muladies. It may be questioned, did he ever treat cholera? Yes; when it raged some years ago in this district it carried off hundreds of victims; eighteen of Priessnitz's patients, and many peasants in the Priessnitz's patients, and many peasants in the neighborhood were treated by him, all of whom re-covered, and without those dreadful ravages in the constitution evinced in those who were lucky enough Johnsen, N. Y., April 15, 1845.

In the winter of 1841 and '42 I was troubled with horaseness and dry, backing cough, produced, no doubt, by change of climate (naving previously spent some time at the South), and possessing weak langs and rather a delicate constitusion. In F. brusry I was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs, which continued until I had not sufficient strength of voice to speak loud in three months. Through medical treatment and care I partially recovered during the summer, but on the return of winter was attacked again with consumption. Fortunately my friends procured the Balsam of Wild Cherry, thinking it might relieve me for a time, and with the blessing of kind Providence, it entirely restored me to beath, which I have continued to enjoy until the present time, without any symptoms of my former-disease, with the exception of being a little more hable to colds from damp air and sudden changes of weather.

ONE THOUSAND CERTIFICATES

REGARDING THE GALVANIC RINGS and Magnetic Riud-Dr. Christie promised the public when he introduced his discovery, that it should be tested solely by its merits. He has redeemed his piedge, and will unfold the proofs. He has now in his possession upwards of one thousand certificates, bearing strongostiesthmony in the matter, the publication of which will be commenced in this journal from to-day. It is earnestly requested that all perrons who are interested, will not believe the newspaper, but will personally call on the respective parties and see and hear from themselves, whether these are facts or falsehoods. Dr. Christie tenders his sincere thanks to those who have thus generously allowed him the use of their names and the recital of their cases. The certificates will be selected as propriety suggests.

STILLANOTHER REPORT from Sag Harbor.—We had in our store at the time of its destruction at the great fire at Sag Harbor on the 13th Nov. 1845, one of Wilder's Patent Salamander Safes, purchased of Mr. Herring, 139 Water-st. New-York, in Dec. 1842. The Safe fell into the cellar and remained there until the store and contemps were entirely consumed. The Safe was exposed to great fire at Sag Harbor on the 13th Nov. 1845, one of Wilder's Patent Salamander Safes, purchased of Mr. Herring, 139 Water-st. New-York, in Dec. 1842. The Safe fell into the cellar and remained there until the store and contemps were entirely consumed. The Safe was exposed to great heat, produced by the oil, candles, drugs, &c. stored in our cellar. And upon opening it we found all our books, papers and several hundred dollars in Banis Billis, in good order.

JONES'S CHANGEABLE LOCK.-The permu-JONES'S CHANGEABLE LOCK.—The permutations of this Lock amount, in the larger specimens, to multions, and la considered the most complex puzzle that was ever invented by the ingenuity of man. Catpus himself was not a more perfect embodiment of mysteries, and the Gordian Knot was simple in comparison. Even if at this were in possession of the key, a single change would be deflectually bar bis ingress as if the lock were a mass of radsmant. There can exist no doubt in the mind of any reasonable being after an examination of one of these Locks, that they afford perfect security against even the maker himself, though furnished with a duplicate of the original key. A very handsome specimen may be seen at the Salamander Safe establishment of Mr. S. C. Herring, 139 Water-at, and we understand that on payment of 5to per hour any person is at liberty to try his skill in the attempt to open it, with an understanding that he shall receive $1,000 if he succeeds.—Jones's Changeable Locks are manufactured at Mr. H.
